

The Love Story

Joe and Larretta met on Saturday, March 27 and on Sunday, March 28, he took her and her boys to the Assembly. After the Assembly, they went out to eat and he proposed at dinner.

She said, "I don't know brother", and told her boys that he had just proposed. The boys were excited and encouraged her: "Mom, marry him!"

They set the wedding for 6 months. Then decided 3 months. Then both agreed that they really liked each other. Both had been married. Both loved Jehovah, and reasoned that, if Jehovah is with them, LOVE would definitely grow.

They talked to the CO of the Congregation and he told Joe, "Treat her right, or answer to me and Jehovah." They got married the 1st of May - - - 35 days later.

They have had a BEAUTIFUL LIFE EVER SINCE.

Jehovah has DEFINITELY been in this marriage of 42 YEARS!

Reflections of Life

Larretta was born on August 8, 1953, in Chicago, IL, to Joseph and Beatrice Williams, who preceeded her in death. She was one of twelve siblings. She was preceded in death by her six siblings, Dorothy Williams, Priscilla Williams, Jerry Williams, Veatrice Williamson, Fiesta Williams, and Brenda Hill-Fears.

She married Joe Scott on May 1, 1982, and proved to be a very loving and beautiful wife. In this union, there were eight children, Mark Scott and wife Doretha, Jackie Henry and husband Charles, Joe Scott, Jr., Tony Scott and wife Qiana, Larry Bishop Scott and wife Pam, Kareem Bishop Scott and wife Lisa, Letelia Williams Scott, and Jorietta Scott and loving daughter-in-law, Keyara Bishop.

In 1972, she symbolized her dedication to Jehovah by water baptism. However, Larretta had served Jehovah all of her life. She was a dedicated witness who loved Jehovah and his organization. Her passion was her ministry and in conducting Bible studies, teaching people about Jehovah. She found joy preparing for and attending the meetings which she continued until she was no longer able. One of her favorite scriptures was Romans 14:8. She enjoyed the song, "Life Without End at Last," and she was known to say "It's Good to Be in Jehovah's Hand."

Her life course showed how she believed in her faith and followed the guidance of her heavenly father, Jehovah. Larretta finished high school, completed three years of college, and obtained several certificates in various professions. As she aspired to be a doctor, she never let go of her dream and was able to attend nursing school around ten years ago .

As a wife and mother, Larretta worked in the home. She was a dutiful housewife and an astute visionary as far as her family was concerned.

She worked alongside her husband, Joe, making sure that their spiritual and physical needs were provided. She was innovative, creative, and admired by her family and especially her husband and children. She was fashionable, a dynamic cook, and she enjoyed playing bid whist card games, among other activities. She was a wonderful friend and loved to associate and keep in touch with her many friends both far and near. She was loved by all.

She is survived by Joe, her dedicated husband of 42 years; eight children (listed above); four sisters, Lee Dale Williams, Cornelia Johnson, Valerie Davis, and Elaine Ollie; very special friend, Phillip McCollum; and a host of grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces, nephews, and other family and friends.
