

WHEN I MUST LEAVE YOU

Please don't say that I gave up, just say that I gave in.
Don't say I lost the battle, for it was God's war to lose or win.

Please don't Say how good I was,
but I did my best. Just say that I tried to do.
What's right – to give the most I could, not do less.

Please don't give me wings or halos, that's for God to do.
I want no more than I deserve, no extras, just my due. Please don't give flowers, or talk in hushed tones.

Don't be concerned about me.
Now, I'm well with God; I've made my home.

Don't talk about what could have been, it's over and it's done.
Just see to all my family's needs, the battle has been won.
When you draw a picture of me, don't draw me as a Saint. I've done some good, I've done some wrong, so use all your paint – not just the bright and light tones, use some gray and dark.
In fact, don't put me down on canvass, paint me in your heart.

Don't just remember good times, but remember all the bad.
For life is full of many things, some happy and some sad. But if you must do something, then I have one last request – forgive for the wrongs I've done, and with the love that's left, thank God for my soul's resting, thank God for I've been blessed. Thank God for all who loved me, praise God who loved me best.

LIFE REFLECTIONS

ON SEPTEMBER 6, 1961, PRISCILLA DANIELS was born to the late Charles George and Lena Mae Daniels. She attended the Newark School system.

In 1985, she met Angelo Carmon. They met at an offsite church service. They fell in love and from there remained inseparable until her death.

Priscilla devoted her life to caring for her girls. Once they became of age, she rejoined the workforce doing what she was best at, caring for others. She worked for the Union Township school district as a cook and later she became a certified home health aide. This was not just a job to her. Priscilla treated each patient like they were her own family. She was always ready to give a word of hope or to hold the family's hand when they lost their loved ones.

Priscilla gave her life to Christ at a young age. She attended the Deliverance Evangelistic center in Newark under the late Apostle Arturo Skinner and then the late Apostle Ralph G. Nichol. Later, she became a member of the Elizabeth Deliverance Tabernacle under the late Bishop Nathan Jackson. It was in the early 1990's, when God called Priscilla's sister Overseer Della Smith to open a church called Deliverance House of Prayer. She served there until the doors closed in 2018. Priscilla used her beautiful voice to sing in the choir. She also served as a nurse in the church and was a preacher of the Gospel. She then joined Anew Church (formerly Cornerstone Ministries) where she served as Mother of the church. She served passionately and enthusiastically in every ministry she attended.

Priscilla also coordinated outreach events where she not only gave natural food to those in need but shared the Good News of Jesus Christ.

To say that Priscilla deeply cared for her family and loved others as if they were her own would be an understatement and would hardly capture its depth. Her love mirrored Christ's— able to look beyond imperfections, forgive mistakes, and set aside her own hurts and needs. Even in the twilight of her life, when her memory was fading, her capacity for care and love remained unwavering. She remained a beacon of hope and encouragement, embodying the work of the Lord even in the face of seemingly hopeless circumstances.

Priscilla will be remembered as a woman who sought peace in every aspect of her life: finding it within herself, fostering it in her relationships, and extending it to those around her. Her strength, determination, and immense heart, along with her delightful sense of humor, were key to her resilience. Despite medical prognosis, she defied the odds, she held fast to her faith in God's promises. We will deeply miss her kind words, her generosity, and her unwavering devotion to God. Priscilla was a model of grace and resilience. Well done, Priscilla. Rest now in the comforting embrace of the Master.

Priscilla leaves behind to cherish her memory, her husband, Angelo Carmon; her daughters, Taquila Glenn and Monique Carmon; her grandchildren, Cory Carmon, Savon Glenn, Victoria Nguyen (Nha), Briana Gonzalez, Antonio Gonzalez, Renee Gonzalez, Tiana Glenn; her great- grandchildren, Mateo Nguyen and Jade Nguyen; her beloved sisters and brothers, Charles Daniels (Cheryl), Barbara Burroughs, Larry Daniels, Richard Daniels, Roselyn Streeter, Gloria Charles, Juanita Johnson (Walter), Johanna Daniels, and Darin Daniels; as well as an innumerable number of nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends made family by love. Priscilla was preceded in death by her parents, Charles George and Lena Mae Daniels; her brothers, Robert Daniels, Edward Daniels, Phillip Daniels, and David Daniels (Lorraine); and sisters, Leona Daniels, Della Smith, Gwendolyn Watson and Glenda Crafton.
