Today we say goodbye, but not farewell, for love outlives what words can tell. Through grief may weigh our hearts right now, and your lessons live within us still. So, rest in peace, your journey is done and your soul at ease, forever loved, forever missed until we meet again in peace.

The Obituary

J*amie Lee Graham* was born on December 17, 1977, at McCleod Regional Medical Center to Freddie and Martha Cooper Graham. He was reared in Hemingway, South Carolina. Jamie was christened at an early age at Mount Carmel Universal Methodist Episcopal Church. Jaime attended Williamsburg County Schools.

J*amie* cherished his loved ones and his community. He loved listening to a variety of different music genres. He was a huge supporter of WWE Wrestling. He dedicated himself to making sure he calls everyone to check on them and their loved ones. He was gracefully known for singing “Happy Birthday” to everyone and his strong memory when it comes to phone numbers. Jamie was a very straightforward and courteous young man who never complained. He was known to make you laugh and brighten your spirit.

J*amie* was preceded in death by his father Freddie L. Graham and older brother Jermaine L. Graham.

His humble and inspirational attitude will always be cherished by his loving and devoted mother Ms. Martha Cooper Graham of Hemingway, SC; only sister Ms. Pembv Graham of Columbia, SC; two nieces Ms. Danika Williams of Columbia, SC; Ms. India Graham of Columbia, SC. A host of aunts, uncles, cousins and other relatives and friends.
