

If You Could See Me Now

My prayers have all been answered.

I finally arrived.

The healing that had been delayed

Has now been realized.

No one's in a hurry;

There's no schedule to keep.

We're all enjoying Jesus,

Happily sitting at His feet.

If you could see me now,

I'm walking streets of gold.

If you could see me now,

I'm standing strong and whole.

If you could see me now,

You'd know I've seen Him face to face.

If you could see me now,

You'd know the pain is eased.

You wouldn't want me

To ever leave this place

If you could only see me now.

My plight and temporary trials

Have worked out for my good,

To know it brought Him glory

When I misunderstood.

Though I've had my sorrows,

They can never compare.

What Jesus has in store for me,

No language can share.

You wouldn't want me

To ever leave this perfect place,

If you could only see me now!

Obituary

Delise Yvette Gainey was born December 2, 1970, in Queens, New York, to Donald Hogan and Debra Coleman-Moss. She grew up in Philadelphia, PA, where she graduated from West Catholic High School for Girls before going on to earn multiple degrees in Business Administration.

Over 20 years, Delise led a successful career in human resources directing various teams and departments in efforts to recruit, onboard, and train professional talent. In reflection of her outstanding performance, Delise achieved supervisory and coveted branch chief opportunities within the United States Government serving as a leader and mentor to others nationwide.

She was a wonderful wife, mother, daughter, granddaughter, sister, cousin, niece, friend, and colleague. A lover of fashion, music, and dancing, Delise would rarely be seen without looking impeccable from head to toe, jokingly emphasizing the importance of her hair and nails. Loved ones remember her as beautiful inside and out, a woman who effortlessly commanded respect and admiration from anyone whom she graced with her presence.

She leaves to cherish her memory and legacy: her husband, Marvin Gainey; children, Devon and Dina; mother, Debra Coleman-Moss (Poppa Joe); father, Donald Hogan; grandmother, Nannette Coleman; uncles, Barry and Gregory Coleman; brother, Adam Davis-Hogan; sister, Alaina Davis-Hogan; sister, Simone Davis-Hogan; beloved dog, Diesel; and a host of other relatives, friends, colleagues, and extended family.
