

UNTIL WE MEET AGAIN

*The Lord called you by name so gently,
And you answered, unafraid.
Leaving footprints in our memory,
In every love you gave.
He wrapped you in His mercy,
Far beyond this world of pain,
Where every tear is lifted
And none are shed again.
So I will trust His promise—
That death is not the end,
But a doorway into glory
Where we will meet again.
Your Loving Wife and Children*

OBITUARY

Darnell Maurice Brown (affectionately known as Maurice and Mo) was born in Roselle, New Jersey, on December 6, 1965, to Lemi Simmons and the late Mary Louise Brown.

He attended Wake County schools and furthered his education at Chowan College, where he obtained a degree in Graphic Communications. In 1991 he was united in holy matrimony to Ms. Pamela Stewart for 35 years, and to this union, one son and two daughters were born: Justin, Kalyn, and Fayth.

At an early age, he joined New Life Community Church. As he grew in Christ, he later joined Barbee's Chapel Harvest Word Ministries, where he served faithfully. He was a leader of praise and worship and was later ordained as a pastor, teaching and preaching the Word of God. He also received his bachelor's degree from Safe Haven Interdenominational Bible College and Training Institute.

He had a passion for people, always pouring into their lives and sharing about the awesome God he served. He loved his family dearly and cherished family vacations and gatherings. He was also a devoted fan of UNC basketball and was one of their biggest supporters. In his spare time, he enjoyed golfing and relaxing in his recliner, watching movies from his personal collection.

For 39 years, he worked in graphic communications and was a well-known pressman throughout his career. He began his career in Raleigh, North Carolina, with Edwards & Broughton. Several years later, he continued his work in Rocky Mount, North Carolina, with Riverside Printing. In his later years, he moved to Classic Graphics in Morrisville, North Carolina, and completed his career at Millennium Print Group in Durham, North Carolina.

He leaves to cherish his memory his loving wife, Pamela Brown; his three children, one son, Justin Brown of Knightdale, North Carolina, and two daughters, Kalyn Eason (Christopher) of Angier, North Carolina, and Fayth Brown of the home; one sister, Monique Brown; one brother, Mansfield Smith, two very special aunts, Regina Burt (William) and Gwen Harris; and one uncle, Charlie Brown. He leaves two grandchildren, Jace Eason and Zoey Eason; two brothers in law, Bona Stewart (Ida) and William Stewart; three sisters in law, Sherlene Jones, Angela Jones (Ron), and Cindy Stewart; one Godson, Aaron Zollicoffer, along with a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and dear friends.
