

All is Well

Death is nothing at all.
I have only slipped into the next room.
I am I, and you are you.

Whatever we were to each other, that we are still.
Call me by my old familiar name,
Speak to me in the easy way which you always used
Put no difference in your tone,
Wear no forced air of solemnity or sorrow,
Laugh as we always laughed at the little jokes we enjoyed together.

Play, smile, think of me, pray for me.
Let my name be ever the household word that it always was,
Let it be spoken without effect, without the trace of shadow on it.
Life means all that it ever meant.

It is the same as it ever was; there is unbroken continuity.
Why should I be out of mind because I am out of sight?
I am waiting for you, for an interval, somewhere very near,
Just around the corner.
All is well.

Reflection of Life

LASHARA KIMEKO JOHNSON was born on December 11, 1980 in Charleston, South Carolina to the late Lullie Mae Johnson and Donald Smith.

She was educated in the public schools of Allendale County and was a graduate of Allendale-Fairfax High School class of 1999. At an early age, she joined Zion Grove Baptist Church and was later baptized. She was employed at McDonald's of Hilton Head, South Carolina until her health declined.

Lashara enjoyed listening to music and shopping. She also enjoyed eating out at various places and traveling was her favorite pastime. She loved her family and would often ride with her sister Vickie everywhere she went when she could. She was a sweet young lady and will be missed by many.

She was preceded in death by her mother, Lula Mae Johnson; and cousin/caregiver, Earl Drayton.

She leaves to cherish her fond memories, her father, Donald Smith of Martin, SC; sister, Elizabeth (Eric) Smith of Ridgeland, SC; one brother, Charles Jackson of Denmark, SC; three aunts: Willie Ruth (John Henry) Drayton and Frances Allen both of Martin, SC and Francenia Brodus of Fairfax, SC; best friend, Keisha Lane of Edison, GA; special nurse, Atonna Salter of Calhoun Nursing Home of Edison, GA; and a host of nephews, nieces, and other loving relatives and caring friends.
