

The Day God Took You Home

You never said "I'm leaving"
You never said goodbye
You were gone before I knew it,
And only God knew why.

A million times I needed you,
A million times I cried
If love alone could have saved you,
You never would have died.

In life I loved you dearly
In death I love you still.
In my heart you hold a place,
That no one could ever fill.

It broke my heart to lose you,
But you didn't go alone
For part of me went with you,
The day God took you home.

Love always,
Nubian and Masiah

The Family

Reflection of Life

Curtisha Shante' Manire affectionately known as "Queen" of Lugoff, South Carolina was born on February 3, 1982 to Jaqueline Allen Whitney and Curt Douglas Manire. She entered into eternal rest on Sunday, June 22, 2025 at her residence after a strong battle with a sickness yet to be identified.

Even though she suffered greatly, Queen received her Masters Degree from University of Tennessee College and was the first in her family to reach that level. A treasurer within the Cancer Department of DHEC, Queen was a strong but kind individual striving to support the ones close to her.

She raised two children as a single parent and provided for her family members in need. She always kept an open mind and had a loving free spirit. Her favorite color was green which represented money and her favorite team was the Philadelphia Eagles. She had dreams that were always "over the top" and she would help people as much as she could.

She was preceded in death by her grandmothers: Earnestine (George) Allen and Catherine (Phillip) Manire; and her uncle, Leroy Hicks.

Curtisha leaves to cherish her fond memories her two children: Nubian Queen and Masiah Isral both of the home in Lugoff, SC; her parents: Jaqueline Allen Whitney of Fairfax, SC and Curt Manire of Philadelphia, PA; three sisters: Curtia Manire, Curtrice Manire and Cutrina Manire all of Philadelphia, PA; a brother, Curt Manire of Philadelphia, PA; two godfathers: Walter Spearman and Anthony Barnes Sr. both of Philadelphia, PA; and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews and other loving relatives and dear friends.
