

THE DAY GOD TOOK YOU HOME

*You never said, "I'm leaving."
You never said, "Good-bye."
You were gone before I knew it,
And only God knew why.
A million times I needed you;
A million times I cried.
If love alone could have saved you,
You never would have died.
In life, I loved you dearly;
In death, I love you still.
In my heart, you hold a place
That no one could ever fill.
It broke my heart to lose you,
But you didn't go alone.
Part of me went with you
The day God took you home.*

AJ as he was affectingly known; entered this world on October 28, 1998 in Laurens, South Carolina, and made Tyette (Vincent) Stokes and Alphonso Lindsay, Sr., the happiest parents on earth. He spent the majority of his time working in the construction industry, working on his truck as well as hanging out with his friends.

As Alphonso crossed over into Glory; he was met at the Pearly Gates by his paternal grandfather, Clyde Lindsay; aunt, Regina Barnes; and great-grandmother, Sarah Jean Castleberry.

He will forever be loved by his parents; his maternal grandparents, Charlene and Curtis Nance; great-grandmother, Emma Nance; paternal grandmother, Bertha Lindsay; one sister, Shai I. Lindsay; one nephew, Rashid Lindsay; stepbrothers, DeJaneiro Styron and Vincent Stokes, Jr.; aunts, Rhonda Castleberry, Debbie (Kennedy) Simmons, and Marilyn (Bobby) Vance; special uncles, Travis (Shantel) Fisher Sr., Joshua Lindsay, Leroy Barnes, and James (Marie) Nance; and special cousin, Braylon Vance; his best friends who were more like brothers, Andrew Waymen, Chris (Adrienne) Wilson, and Carson Smith Along with his play sisters, Laysha Gary and Princess Dobbins, who was also his hair twister and food runner. *The sun's gonna rise tomorrow
Somewhere on the east side of sorrow.
Don't give it a reason to follow.
Let it be, then let it go.
Let it be, then let it go.
