When Tomorrow Starts Without Me

*When tomorrow starts without me,
And I'm not here to see,
If the sun should rise and find your eyes, filled with tears for me.*

*I wish so much you wouldn't cry,
The way you did today,
While thinking of the many things,
We didn't get to say.*

*I know how much you love me,
As much as I love you,
And each time you think of me
I know you'll miss me too.*

*When tomorrow starts without me,
Don't think we're far apart,
For every time you think of me,
I'm right there in your heart.*

Loving Reflections For
Mrs. Eva Mae Byron

Mrs. Eva Mae Byron peacefully transitioned in her home on Friday, December 29, 2023 surrounded by her family. She was born August 22, 1931 to her late parents, Samuel Black, Sr. and Nannie Ruth Long Black and was preceded in death by her husband, Jack Byron to whom she was married for forty three years. Fifteen siblings also predeceased her in death.

Mrs. Eva was baptized into Christ at the Steele Street Church of Christ, but later made her church family at West Fifth Street Church of Christ. She was a very active member. She sang with the adult singing group, and she was a Sunday school teacher who taught God’s word to young people with much love and encouragement.

She graduated in 1964 from A.C. Carter Consolidated School. Later she received a certificate in Cosmetology and obtained her certification as a Certified Nursing Assistant. She retired from Mohawk Industries, Georgia Glove Mill, Oak View Nursing Home and Right At Home HealthCare. Mrs. Eva found great enjoyment in sewing, cooking, canning, gardening and visiting the sick. She loved to participate in Chili and Brunswick Stew cookoffs, she enjoyed it more when she was the winner.

Survivors are her two daughters, Pamela (Donald) Wiggins of Summerville, GA., Jaqueline (David) Fain of Rome, GA.; grandchildren, Orlando Nichols, Brian (Tameka) Griffin, Michael Evans, LaQuetta Evans of Rome, GA., Shellyse (Moshem) Khulpuwa of LaFayette, GA.; sisters-in-law, Annie Black, Doris Shepherd, Jean Bankston, Louise Williams; brothers-in-law, Bro. Jesse James Bankston of Summerville, GA., Mactine Bankston of Troy, AL.; and a host of great grandchildren, great great grandchildren, nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives and many friends.
