

When I have come to the end of the road,
 I would like to look back and see,
 That I have done my very best
 With the trust that is placed in me.
 I'd like to know that I never have,
 By action, word, or deed,
 Betrayed a given confidence
 Or forsaken a friend in need.
 I'd like the consolation
 When I've gone the last mile,
 To know I've gone the last mile,
 To know I've meant something to someone
 And caused those in sorrow to smile.
 I know that I would be happy
 If in the heart of just one,
 I can have some lingering memory
 Of something good I have done.

Loving Reflections

"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life". John 3:16.

MR. CLARENCE BONDS was born the ninth child of the late James "Jim" and Bessie Gilbert Bonds in Chatsworth, Georgia on September 18, 1936. He grew up in a family oriented Christian home on a large farm where he learned many skills that helped him throughout his life including farming, cooking, and landscaping.

Clarence was a strong believer in God and was a member of Victory Baptist Church in Atlanta, GA where he served as Deacon for many years. He met and married his beautiful wife, Elizabeth Ann in Atlanta, GA, and became the step father of her four children.

His employment included property maintenance, landscaping, domestic work, and served as a cook in many capacities in the restaurant business. He had several successful business ventures and had an incredible work ethic. He was known to be one of the most dependable you could know. He was retired from many years of service with the Jonas Family and the Sear family.

Clarence's accolades included being a sharp dresser, styling his exquisite suites with hats and caps, fishing, listening to music, and watching western movies. He had a great sense of humor and was a pleasure to be around. He was preceded in death by his faithful and loving wife Elizabeth Ann Bonds; two sisters, Jeanette Reeves, and Jessie Mae Miller, seven brothers, Herl, Charles, James, Morris, Fred, Johnny, and Joe Bonds, Sr.

Survivors are sister-n-law, Wilma Bonds; nieces, Pat (Willie), Armenda, Betty, Joanne (Eli), Djunna, Lisa, Annette, Reba (Lane), Glenda, and Patricia; nephews, Lamar, Joe, Jr., Eli, Roger, Keith, Raymond, Steven, John Ben, Don, and Tim; a host of cousins, other relatives, Wanda Sear and family, and friends.
