

*If Tears Could
Build a Stairway*

If tears could build a stairway

And memories a lane,

I'd walk right up to heaven

And bring you home again.

No farewell words were spoken;

No time to say goodbye.

You were gone before I knew it,

And only God knows why.

My heart still aches in sadness

And secret tears still flow.

What it meant to lose you,

No one will ever know.

OBITUARY

Antosha Janay Collins was born on July 8, 1977, at 9:52 a.m. in Bartow, Florida. From a young age, she was active and determined—running track, participating in JROTC, babysitting her younger siblings, and working hard at every opportunity.

Antosha, lovingly known as “Tosha” and “Black Diamond,” was truly a light in this world. She had a smile that filled the room and a laugh that was contagious; when she laughed, you laughed. While working at IHOP, she often blessed customers with Gospel songs, warm hugs, and words about the goodness of God. Tosha never met a stranger—only friends she hadn’t yet embraced.

She also loved to dance, and if you fed her a good meal, you could catch her dancing in her seat.

She was a devoted daughter, a loving sister, a darling aunt, a caring niece, a cherished cousin, a proud dog mom, and a loyal friend to many.

Antosha’s legacy is one of joy, faith, laughter, and unconditional love. Though she will be deeply missed, the memories she created and the lives she touched will forever carry her spirit forward.
