IN APPRECIATION

The family of Sanjo D. Wilson would like to extend our deepest and most heartfelt gratitude to everyone who has surrounded us with love, prayers, kindness, and unwavering support during this incredibly difficult time. While our hearts are heavy, we are comforted by the countless expressions of compassion shown to our family.

Every phone call, text, visit, meal, floral arrangement, card, donation, embrace, and spoken prayer has been a source strength, and your love has carried us through moments when words simply could not.

We'd like to give a special thank you to The Doctors and nurses of HCA Memorial South Hospital, Gandy Crossing Rehabilitation, and both Teams at Del Rio and East Tampa (Ybor) Davita Dialysis Centers. Thank you for allowing God to work through you and allowing him to bless your hands as you worked with our loved one during this journey.

From the bottom of our hearts, thank you for honoring her life, celebrating her legacy, and standing beside our family during this season. Your love will never be forgotten, and we will forever be grateful.

With sincere love and appreciation, The Family of Sanjo D. Wilson

A Life to be Remembered

On Wednesday, July 22, 2026, our beloved SANJO D. WILSON, loving known by many as a devoted mother, grandmother, sister, aunt, friend, and woman of unwavering faith, was called home to be with the Lord.

While our hearts grieve her earthly absence, we rejoice knowing she has found eternal peace in the loving arms of her savior.

Born Sanjo Anita Dixon on April 29, 1960, in Plant City, Florida, Sanjo was the cherished daughter of Bernetha Dixon and Robert Dixon, Sr. She was raised in a family rooted in love, resilience, and faith – values that remained with her throughout her life.

Sanjo graduated from Plant City High School as a proud member of the Class of 1977 before continuing her education at Clark College (now Clark Atlanta University), where she graduated with the class of 1981. She later dedicated her professional life to Hillsborough County Public Schools, faithfully serving her community with compassion, integrity, and excellence. She was admired by colleagues and appreciated by all who had the opportunity to know and work alongside her.

A faithful member of St. John Progressive Missionary Baptist Church in Tampa, Florida, Sanjo loved the Lord and lived her faith through kindness, generosity, and service. She was also an active and proud member of the Harram Court No 96 the Daughters Auxiliary, as well as the Electa Assembly No. 146, where she cultivated lifelong friendships while continuing a legacy of sisterhood and community service.

Anyone who knew Sanjo knew she believed life was meant to be celebrated. She was truly a diva – always beautifully dressed, with flawless hair, perfectly manicured nails, sparkling jewelry, and a smile that could light up any room. She loved family gatherings, spending time friends, traveling, laughing, dancing, and making memories. Remaining still simply wasn't in her nature. Her vibrant personality, infectious laughter, and beautiful spirit made every room brighter.

Above all else, Sanjo's greatest joy was her family. She was a loving and devoted mother whose children were her pride, and becoming a grandmother brought her immeasurable happiness. She loved deeply, gave generously, and never missed an opportunity to remind those she loved just how much they meant to her.

Sanjo shared 40 years of marriage with Clarence P. Wilson, Jr. Together they built a loving family, raised three children, and created countless memories that would become the foundation of a lasting legacy. She is lovingly remembered by Clarence, whose life will forever be connected to hers through the children and grandchildren they so dearly loved.

Her legacy lives on through the countless lives she touched with her warmth, wisdom, compassion, humor, and unconditional love. Though we will miss her every day, we are forever grateful for the precious gift of having known and loved her.

Sanjo leaves to celebrate her life and cherish loving memories, her children; Aja L. Wilson, Ciara P. Wilson, and Clarence P. Wilson III, M.S.; She is also lovingly remembered by Clarence P. Wilson, Jr.; her beloved grandchildren, De'Lani Y. Wilson-Bangurah and Myles D. Kitt; She is also survived by her devoted siblings, Dea. Robert Dixon Jr., Retired USAF Colonel (Patricia) and Panzina Dixon; Her beloved uncle and aunt, Thomas Stubbs, Sr. & Betty Stubbs.; She also leaves behind her cherished nieces, nephews, extended family members, and loved ones, including Mia Dixon, Adrienne Dixon Barnes, Robert C. Dixon (Janell), Georgia Simpson, Dylan Mitchell II, Jojuan Dixon, Joel Dixon, Jacob A. Barnes, Gianna N. Barnes, Skylar E. Dixon, Robert J. Dixon, Jaxon J. Dixon, Sa'Nyra Mia "Lil' Feathers" Dixon, Chloe Hollinger, Bryce Hollinger, Ava Hollinger, Aniyah McKinnes, Mikaiya Larry, and God-daughter, Nariana McDonald; Devoted In-Laws, Curtiss W. Wilson and Lillian Wilson Hollinger (Bobby); Cherished lifelong friends, including Belinda Brown & family, Pamela McFadden, Greg Thomas, Dionne "Kitt" Connolly (In-Law), Traci Wilson (In-Law), Cheryl Young, and Patricia Robinson; along with a host of Dixon, Thomas, Pryor, Stubbs, and Wilson Cousins, St. John PMB church family, Harram No 96 Daughters Auxiliary members, Electa Assembly No.146, former coworkers from Hillsborough County Public Schools, and many dear friends whose lives were forever enriched by her presence.

She was preceded in eternal rest by her loving parents, Bernetha Dixon and Robert Dixon Sr.; as well as grand-mother, Daisy Thomas Clark; aunt, Bernice Montgomery; and nephew, Joe Dixon, Jr.

*"To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under heaven."
– Ecclesiastes 3:1*

Although her earthly journey has ended, her love, laughter, elegance, faith, and beautiful spirit will remain forever in our heart. We find peace in knowing that this is not goodbye – it is simply "until we meet again."

*"Well done, good and faithful servant... enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."
– Matthew 25:23*

The Elegy of

SANJO ANITA DIXON WILSON

For far too long, you carried burdens few could see. Each day you rose with quiet courage, holding tight to hope’s promise, believing there were still more moments to share with those you loved.

Your body grew weary, but your spirit never surrendered. You fought tirelessly with faith and determination, because your heart still longed to be with us, your family and friends. We prayed for healing. You prayed for strength. And through every difficult day, God never left your side.

Then, in His perfect love and endless mercy, He gently whispered, “My child, you’ve fought enough. Come and lay your burdens down.” So, you traded pain for peace, weakness for wholeness, earth’s struggle for heaven’s joy.

And when your earthly journey reached its end, you were not alone. Surrounded by the three children blessed to call you mother, you were held by the very love you so fiercely gave to those you held dear. As our hands gently held yours, God’s hands were reaching for you. As we whispered, “We love you,” Heaven whispered, “Welcome home.”

Though our hearts ache in your absence, we rejoice knowing you are no longer suffering. The battle that exhausted your body could never defeat your spirit.

Your love and spirit remain in our hearts and in the smiles of all those who love you. Your faith and silent prayers that covered us remains our inheritance to God’s Kingdom. Your memory remains our blessing.

Rest well, Mom. The fight is over. The victory is now yours.

LOVINGLY WRITTEN BY CLARENCE P. WILSON III, M.S., ON BEHALF OF OUR ENTIRE FAMILY.
