Sunset

Sunsets come, and Sunsets go
Some things in life we'll never know
But one day in that by and by,
We'll face the Master, and then we'll understand why
A light like yours that burned so bright
now is dimmed,
So we'll just say good-night.
Just relax for now and get your rest
For joy comes in the morning,
And that's when you'll be best.
No more pain, nor sorrow, and no more tears.
You've toiled and worked for many years
So now lay down your shield and sword
You've fought a good fight; go get your reward.
Take flight on the wings of a dove
Your course is set for Heaven above
You'll meet our Father face to face
He'll say, "Well done, you've finished the race."
Although we hate to see you go,
We know it's best, but always know
Your presence and love will be missed.
