

In Loving Memory of Michael “A King Remembered.”

When I think of Michael...

We remember the strength and spirit of this Black King —

A man who stood firm in his convictions and always had a voice that mattered.

He had a unique perspective, and he loved deeply —

Especially for those closest to his heart.

Michael never hesitated to lend a hand.

He supported his family and friends without question,

Always showing up, always giving, always present.

When it came to sports — football or basketball —

He was the ultimate fan. Bold in his predictions,

Fearless in his bets, and always the loudest in the room.

Michael believed in his teams the way he believed in life —
with passion and certainty.

He loved to celebrate, and when he entered a room,

You felt his presence.

He was the life of the party,

Danced like no one else, and lit up every space he touched.

Michael was a kind soul,

And his passing leaves an irreplaceable space in our hearts.

If love and willpower could have kept him here,

He would still be fighting for another day.

We salute you, Uncle Mike.

You are deeply loved, dearly missed, and forever remembered.

Until we meet again.
