

A collage of 20 photographs showing various people, likely family and friends, in different settings and poses. The photos are arranged in a grid-like fashion, with some larger and some smaller, creating a visual timeline or memory book. The subjects are predominantly African American, and the photos capture moments of family gatherings, individual portraits, and group shots in various environments like homes, outdoors, and at social events.

In the TV world, The Golden Girls were four women.
In my world, there were three. Together, they were a trio of wisdom, laughter, and unmatched love. Always cracking jokes, telling stories, and lighting up every room they entered. Now, one of my golden girls has been called home to glory.

She was the one who could brighten your spirit with just a word, make you laugh until you cried, and remind you that joy is a form of worship. Her presence was a blessing, her laughter, a song from Heaven itself.

Though our hearts are heavy, we know her soul is at peace, resting in the arms of the Lord. Her legacy lives on in every smile, every prayer, and every memory she left behind.
Heaven just gained a real one a golden girl, through and through.

We’ll love you forever, and we’ll see you again one day.

Rest in heaven Aunt Chick Janiya Black, Great-niece
