Called to Heal and Destined to Serve

Living your purpose every single day,
You walked this earth with steadfast grace,
Leaving your touch in a profound way.

Championship dreams took flight in Kingston's athletic courts,
The art of healing bloomed in Brooklyn's academic halls,
Therapeutic care shared within Shelby's hospital walls.
You walked beside your patients all the way,
A steady guide through illness and pain,
Sharing knowledge day by day.

Despite the weight of demanding rounds,
Loving family was your favorite part;
You championed education, youth, and art.
A cherished husband for forty-two years,
A devoted father, endlessly proud,
Blessed with brilliant children and loving grands.

Among your flowers, you cultivated beauty,
Leaving blossoms that reflect a deep love—
A living monument for cherished memories.
Your mind inquired,
Your hands healed,
Your heart served.
Rest well, dear Ian; your legacy endures.

Dr. Ian Patrick Stamp

Sunrise: November 18, 1957 — Sunset: September 29, 2026

Dr. Ian Patrick Stamp of Shelby, NC, transitioned from his earthly life on Tuesday, September 29, 2026. Born November 18, 1957 in Kingston, Jamaica, West Indies, he was the son of the late Enos Stamp and Louise Maria Levy Stamp.

Early Years

From a young age, Ian dreamed of becoming a medical doctor. He was also a dedicated multi-sport athlete at Jamaica College, excelling in both basketball and soccer. On a recent trip to Jamaica, he was proudly acknowledged and celebrated by the Jamaica College principal, Wayne Robinson, for leading the school to a basketball championship.

Education

Dr. Stamp achieved his childhood dream of entering the medical field by graduating from Jamaica College and migrating to the United States. He continued his education at New York City Community College in Brooklyn, New York, and Saint John's University in Queens, New York.

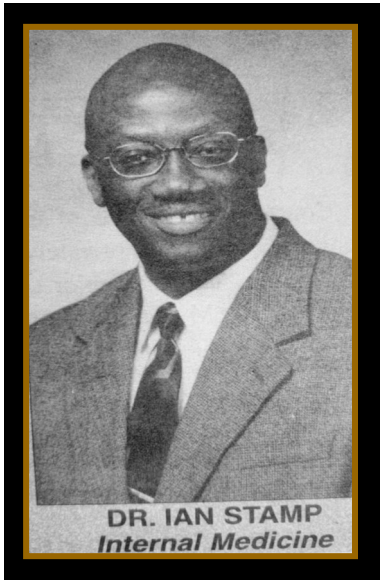

He earned his Doctor of Medicine from SUNY Health Science Center in Brooklyn, New York. He completed his internship and residency at Kings County Medical Center, where he subsequently served as an attending physician for many years.

Professional Accomplishments

In Brooklyn, New York, Dr. Stamp served as a clinical instructor at the Chest Clinic at Kings County Hospital Center, a staff physician at Chiropractic and Associates, and a staff physician at Shorefront Jewish Geriatric Center. He educated patients on seasonal flu awareness and prevention. He also guided and mentored numerous residents and medical students, particularly on the medical-surgical unit and across hospital specialty areas.

In 1998, Dr. Stamp relocated to Shelby, NC, where he dedicated more than twenty-eight years of his life to serving his community with deep compassion. In 2004, Dr. Stamp opened his own practice, Shelby Internal Medicine, Inc. He was a well-respected physician providing care to patients in Cleveland County, Hospice of Rutherford County, and at Centerwell Senior Primary Care in Gastonia. He also led the AIDS program for the Cleveland County Health Department.

A passionate educator, Dr. Stamp lectured on hypercholesterolemia, diabetes, and heart disease. He shared his knowledge as an instructor at DeVry University in Charlotte, NC, teaching anatomy and physiology while fostering a positive learning environment to help students achieve scholarly excellence.

His commitment to health education extended throughout the community: He served as a medical consultant at the Community Medication-Assisted Program at Shiloh Baptist Church, sponsored by Atrium Health Cleveland (Carolina Health Care System) in 2017.

Community Service & Passion

Dr. Stamp served on the steering committee for the Parish Nurses of Cleveland County and was a past board member at the Life Enrichment Center in Shelby, North Carolina. Deeply committed to education, he continually encouraged his children and local youth to pursue higher learning. He invested directly in his community by: mentoring young people through basketball; allowing students with interests in the medical field to shadow him; sponsoring selected members of the Shelby High School cheerleaders; providing college scholarships for graduating seniors; and helping his sons and godson earn their Eagle Scout awards. Outside of medicine and service, Dr. Stamp was passionate about gardening and capturing the beauty of his flowers through photography.

Family & Loved Ones

Dr. Stamp deeply loved his family and cherished every moment spent with them. He made it a priority to attend his children's sporting and academic events, always encouraging them to follow their dreams. His unwavering dedication to his family will be treasured forever. He leaves to cherish his memory and carry on his legacy: His loving wife of 42 years, Marilyn; his sons, Christopher (Brianah) and Nicholas (Danika); his three beloved grandchildren; his siblings, Annette and Claude; his godchildren, Lucinda and Phillip; his in-laws, Linda, Michelle, Andrea, and Gary; and a host of family, friends, and loved ones.
