The Broken Chain

*We little knew the day that
God was going to call your name.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.*

*It broke our hearts to lose you
But you didn't go alone.
For part of us went with you
The day God called you home.*

*You left us peaceful memories.
Your love is still our guide,
And though we cannot see you
You are always at our side.*

*Our family chain is broken and nothing seems the same,
but as God calls us one by one
the chain will link again.*

The Essence of Her Life

Ena Larna Naylor was born on July 13, 1970, in Miami, Florida, to Lena Mae Grady of Homerville, Georgia and the late James Grady, and Edward Naylor of Miami, Florida. She was lovingly raised by her father, Ricky Thomas (Fordia)

Ena was a member of Brown Chapel AME Church. She was known as a loving mother, grandmother, devoted daughter, sister, and aunt who cherished her family deeply. Ena loved her family and friends and valued the time she spent with them.

She was a proud graduate of Clinch County High School and later attended South Georgia State College.

Ena began her career in healthcare and became a traveling nurse with ResCare. She truly enjoyed caring for her patients, and the compassion she showed them was returned many times over. Later in life, she continued her service to others by becoming a Correctional Officer at Valdosta State Prison.

Ena was known for her strong faith in God and her strong will. She was outspoken, authentic, and genuine in every way. She was a well rounded person who loved to laugh and was full of joy. Ena had a warm spirit and never met a stranger.

She was preceded in death by her father, Edward Naylor Sr.; her sisters, E'rrica Naylor and Latrice Sanders; and her brother, Anthony Grady.

Ena leaves to cherish her precious memories three loving children, Britnee McMillian of Atlanta, Georgia; Tylor McMillian (Taiesha) of Homerville, Georgia; and Zolya McMillian of Lakeland, Georgia. She also leaves her goddaughter, Ciera Johnson; goddaughter, Eniya McMillian; and her godson, the late Quinton Barrett.

She leaves behind her beloved grandchildren, Brexton McMillian, Zahir McMillian, Kaloni McMillian, Christian McMillian, and Kyrie McMillian.

Ena is also survived by her siblings, Catina Lacey (Dondre), Edward Naylor (Marlyn), Ezra Naylor, Michael Grady (Kelly), Consandra Thomas, Kimberly Marshall (Joshua), Tasha Thomas, Portia Thomas, and Ricky Thomas Jr., along with a host of loving nieces, nephews, extended family, and dear friends.
