- COREY -

They say there is a reason,
They say that time heals,
But neither time nor reason
Will change the way we feel.
For no-one knows the heartache
That lies behind our smiles,
No-one knows how many times,
We have broken down and cried.
Gone from home that smiling face,
Those cheerful, happy ways,
The heart that won so many friends
In bygone, happy days.
We want to tell you something
So, there won't be any doubt,
You're so wonderful to think of
But so hard to be without.
We cannot bring back the old days,
When we were together.
The family chain is broken now.
But memories live forever.

Love always,
Momma, Neka, and Mark (It's Just Us)

- THE OBITUARY -

Jecorey Hernandez Purifoy, a man of deep faith and boundless passion, left this world on Wednesday, March 26, 2025, at Baptist Medical Center South in Montgomery, Alabama. Born on December 23, 1991, in Escambia County, Florida, Jecorey's life was one of purpose and joy, marked by his unwavering courage and a heart full of song.

Born to Mrs. Peaches Adams Wagner, and the late Mr. Cecil Crenshaw, Jecorey's early years were the foundation of a life lived with conviction and love. A proud graduate of Luverne High School Class of 2011 in Luverne, Alabama, Jecorey's academic achievements were just the beginning of his journey to make a meaningful impact in the world around him.

Jecorey's commitment to his faith was evident to all who knew him. He confessed Christ and found a spiritual home at Believers Church International in Lanett, Alabama, under the guidance of Bishop Cartterris Tucker. His involvement in the church went beyond mere attendance; he was a soul-stirring singer on the praise and worship team and a vibrant captain of the step team. These roles were a testament to his dedication to both his faith and his community.

Beyond the walls of the church, Jecorey was a cultural activist who fiercely advocated for issues close to his heart. He lent his voice and efforts to combat gun violence and police brutality, embodying the change he wished to see in the world. His portrayal of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in a play further highlighted his commitment to civil rights and social justice, leaving a lasting impression on all who witnessed his powerful performance.

Jecorey's interests were as diverse as they were engaging. He was an avid bowler, a competitive video gamer, a joyful swimmer, and a karaoke enthusiast. His laughter and energy were infectious, and he had a unique ability to light up a room and bring people together, whether he was leading a team or simply sharing a moment of fun with friends.

Those who knew Jecorey would describe him as a passionate individual, whose faith-filled life was a beacon of hope and strength. He approached every challenge with courage, never shying away from an opportunity to stand up for what he believed in. His legacy is one of inspiration, as he touched the lives of many through his actions and his unwavering spirit.

He was preceded in death by: His father Cecil Crenshaw; two brothers, Kentell Smith and Kerry Smith; a beloved great-aunt, Mattie Adams.

He leaves to cherish his precious memory: mother, Peaches Wagner of Opelika, AL; three sisters, Shenikia Purifoy of Auburn, AL, Nicole Walker and Ja'Cynthia Spann both of Greenville, AL; five brothers, Jamarcus Purifoy of Atlanta, GA, Brian Walker, Kareem Hall, Tarrance Smith and Dinarves Smith all of Greenville, AL; grandmother, Bernice Elms of Opelika, AL; special uncle, Lorenza Adams of Athens, GA; devoted cousin, Dayshia Wilson of Birmingham, AL; three nieces, Cadence, Natalia, and Moriah; one nephew, Mason; god-sister, Shakia Brantley of Luverne, AL; god-daughter, Mya Roundtree of Columbus, GA; childhood best friend, D'Marquez Hall of Luverne, AL; a host of aunts, uncles, cousins and friends.
