Well-done, A Life Celebration

A TIME TO BE BORN:

Ms. Brenda Faye Cooper Whitaker of Stone Mountain, GA, (formerly of Dawson, GA) was born to the parents of the late Dessie Mae Lewis Bridges Cooper and the late Washington Cooper on December 29, 1954, in Dawson, GA. She was affectionately known by family and friends as “Faye”. Faye was known for her infectious laugh & quick wit; she was a pistol with a heart of gold. She kept close to her family, speaking with them regularly and absolutely loved seeing and spending time with them whenever she could. Faye was the last of the three children born to her parents.

A TIME TO PLANT:

Faye’s roots began in the community of Sardis (Terrell County, GA) where she was raised, attended and graduated from Terrell Co. School System. Faye graduated with the class of 1973. She furthered her education by attending Albany State College, now known as the “Unsinkable Albany State University. After the loss of her mother Faye relocated to PA where she resided for years in the company of her older brother, before making Atlanta, GA her final home away from home. Faye was employed and retired from the State of GA in 2017 with over 30 years of service. Faye was a God fearing and Faithful guest of Berean Christian Church of Stone Mountain, GA. Undoubtedly her greatest achievements were her loving daughter and grandchildren. The wind beneath her wings and they loved her all the more!

A TIME TO SOAR

Saturday, October 05, 2024. God has spoken! Well, done my good and Faithful servant, coming forth to carry you to your eternal home. Home of Glory, you will want, hurt & worry no more! Faye was preceded in death by her parents, Washington and Dessie Cooper, a sister the late Susie Bridges Ferguson, three brothers the late Ulysses Bridges, Daniel Clark and WC Cooper.

A TIME TO HEAL

Faye’s legacy will always remain engraved and woven into the tapestry of the hearts, souls and minds of her family. Especially her one & only child Miesha Cooper-Robinson, one grandson Joseph Copeland Jr, twin granddaughters Jordan and Jadyne Robinson all of Lithonia, GA of whom she adored more than anything and was super proud. She leaves to cherish her memories a bonus granddaughter Chynna Davis Turner (Zarethus) and a bonus great granddaughter Zora Chanel Mary Turner. She is also survived by several nieces & nephews: Susan F. Walton and LaVonda Ferguson of Dawson, GA, Jessica F. Randall of Albany, GA and Barbara Ferguson, Ellaville, GA. Deacon Leon Ferguson (Tammy) Dawson, GA, Troy, Vaughn and Vernon Bridges of PA; Close Friends, Countless Great nieces & nephews too many to name and a host of other cousins & brokenhearted family members. God is near to the brokenhearted.

We know that things will never be the same again and we can never get Those times back! But we can always look back on what we had and look back with a smile on our faces, we know things don’t always last Forever and realizing that we won’t see you again is hard to do!
Rest well nanna– your granddaughters Jordan & Jadyne

xoxo

To my one & only Mommie from your one & only child. Many things have changed instantly Many things will never be the same, many things unspoken yet many things well known You were my anchor, my encourager & biggest supporter. The moment you left the earth, many of my desires went with you. I am different, I am broken, I am trying to imagine navigating a world without my favorite girl. This be true, nothing will ever stop the love I have for you!
– your girl Miesha

Words cannot describe my heart in this moment. The times we have shared, the love and the laughter. You have always played a huge role in my life; you have never missed a milestone. For that, I am truly grateful and mesmerized. Love always nanna and big ups from your one and only grandson! - Joseph
