A LIFE REMEMBERED

David Johnson Jr., a man whose hands were as busy as his heart was full, peacefully transitioned from this life on March 21, 2026, in his lifelong hometown of Dawson, Georgia. Born on July 2, 1942, to the late David Johnson Sr. and Veradel Hart Paul, David known affectionately by family and friends as "Hammer Head" or "Junior" spent 83 years building a legacy of service, friendship, and faith.

A proud product of the Terrell County School System. David was the definition of a "friend to all." He never met a stranger and was cherished for his likable, easygoing nature. His dedication to his community was most evident at Zion Hill Baptist Church, where he served as a devoted member, offering his time and talents to the congregation he loved.

David's true passion lay in his craftsmanship. A master of many trades, he was a skilled carpenter, brick mason, roofer, and all-around handyman. He didn't just work for a living; he worked for his people. Whether it was a major renovation or a small repair, David tackled every project for his family and friends with a meticulous spirit and a joyful heart, continuing his craft until his health no longer permitted.

While we mourn his passing, we ask that you remember David not for the way his life ended but for the vibrant way it was lived. His impact remains etched in the homes he helped build and the many lives he touched with his kindness.

He leaves behind a large, loving family to carry on his memory, including his daughter Felicia (Antoine) Blackmon; his sisters Helen Winbush, Mary (Nathaniel) Wilkins, Betty (Tommie) Mason, Sara Bobo, Willa Paul, Patricia Floyd, Dorothy Ferguson, and Jerry (John) Dowdell; and his brothers James Paul, Clarence Johnson, and Russell Johnson. He is also survived by a devoted cousin, Tracy Flournoy; two special neighbors: Gladys Davis and Johnny Clark; along with a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends who will miss his steady hand and warm smile.
