Reflections of Life

Mable Jones was born June 25, 1926, in Coleman, Georgia, to the late Roy and Leona Montgomery Jones. She was the second oldest of four children.

On June 12, 2026, she peacefully answered the call and transitioned to eternal rest. In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her daughter, Junia Gibson Crockett of Buffalo, New York; her son, Bobby Gibson of Coleman, Georgia; her sister, Laura Lee Jones Philips of Buffalo, New York; her brother, Roy Jones Jr. of Buffalo, New York; her son-in-law, Robert Crockett of Buffalo, New York; her brothers-in-law, Ulysees Davis Sr. of Coleman, Georgia, and James Phillips Sr. of Buffalo, New York; and her sister-in-law, Geraldine Jones-Gibson of Norfolk, Virginia.

Mable faithfully loved the Lord and accepted Jesus Christ as her Lord and Savior at an early age. She joined New Hope Baptist Church early in life and remained a devoted and active servant until her health declined. Over the years, she diligently served in many capacities, including the choir and hospitality committee, and later became Mother of the Church.

She worked as a domestic worker for the Hall, Carter, and McKinney families and even served as a cook at Randolph-Clay High School for a few years before retiring. Mable was an excellent cook who took great pride in preparing meals for family gatherings and holidays, especially her cakes and pies. She was always determined to prepare everyone's favorite dish and found absolute joy in feeding others.

Aside from cooking, she found happiness in fishing and caring for others. She loved sharing stories of how many crappies, bream, and catfish she caught, and once proudly appeared in the newspaper holding her latest catch, a 14½-pound catfish. She was also devoted to her community, visiting friends, cooking for, and assisting the sick and infirm. Though she never had much, she took pride in helping others in any way she could. On quiet afternoons, she could often be found working in her puzzle book, watching daytime shows such as The Young and the Restless and Family Feud, or spending time with her sister, Ommie, and dear friends Margaret Dennard, Dora Grooms, and Corine Patterson. Her wisdom and spirit touched all who knew her.

She leaves a legacy of three daughters: Mary Ann Pierce Garrett of Cuthbert, Georgia; Berlinda Jones; and Peggy Gibson of Coleman, Georgia; four sons: Jerry Thompson (Norma) of Columbus, Georgia; Ronnie Gibson of Coleman, Georgia; Willie Gibson (Shirlene) of Coleman, Georgia; and Larry Holley (Debra) of Edison, Georgia; one sister, Ommie Davis of Coleman, Georgia; 22 grandchildren; 41 great-grandchildren; and 15 great-great-grandchildren; dozens of nieces, nephews, and cousins; and a host of honorary grandchildren. A special thanks goes to each of her caregivers.
