THE LIFE & LEGACY OF
ANTHONY
Lewis

MR. ANTHONY LEWIS was born in Jacksonville, FL to parents, James C. Lewis & Jessie Mae Lewis. Mr. Lewis attended elementary school at Mary McCleod Bethune & Northwestern. He attended middle school at James Weldon Johnson and William M. Raines Senior High School. Mr. Anthony Lewis served two years in the Army and was employed at Jefferson Smurfit Corporation (The Paper Mill), Maxwell House, and International Longshoremens' Association #1408.

In Anthony's life, hobbies were more than pastimes—they were the threads that wove passion and skill together. Whether patiently casting lines over the Nassau Sound using that "old bait", or crafting beautiful rugs, his creativity knew no bounds. His creativity continued as a master chef from grilling and cooking to baking cakes and his famous bread pudding. In addition to being an attentive and persistent individual, Anthony was a devoted family man who found immense joy in the company of his adored grandchildren. Through his tireless work ethic and unwavering love, he not only accomplished great things, but also created treasured memories and lasting bonds with his beloved grandchildren. Rooted in family values, Anthony was the unspoken glue that joined relatives and friends together. His commitment to fostering connections was as unwavering as the love showered on those around him. A beacon of generosity, thoughtfulness, and consideration, Anthony was the true essence of a provider, not just in material comforts, but in the warmth of his presence.

Mr. Lewis was preceded in death by his parents, James C. Lewis and Jessie Mae Lewis. He was also preceded in death by his siblings, James Lewis Jr., Betty Way, Marion "Lois" Johnson, and Leroy "Ship" Lewis.

He is survived by two Children: Bianca Lewis-Gueye (Malick) & Kendrix Lewis (Liltera); Grandchildren: Kayla Lewis, Kierra Lewis, Amara Gueye, Ndeye Fatou Gueye, Aicha Gueye, Lyrix Lewis; Siblings: Allen Lewis, Roxanne Lewis, Annette Hanna (Richard), Susan Allen (Charles), Phyllis Wilson and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, relatives and devoted friends.
