REMEMBERING...

Clara

Clara was born on June 1, 1950, the fifteenth child of eighteen, to Deacon Andrew Allen Swain and Christine Grice Hughes Swain at Duval Medical Center in Jacksonville, Florida. Clara attended St. Matthew Baptist Church, where as a youth she was baptized and served on the Junior Usher Board and later the Adult Usher Board. She remained a faithful member for over sixty years. She graduated from Stanton Vocational High School in 1970 and worked on the Stanton Reunion Committee. Serving her community, Clara was a school crossing guard for over twenty-five years before retiring. For her years of service, she received recognition from past Jacksonville Sheriff's, Nathaniel Glover and John Rutherford. She also worked part-time doing janitorial service with Key Buick for many years.

Throughout her life, Clara had many loves. Her first marriage to Aubrey Costello was brief. She then married McKinley Cobb and after his death she married Johnny Watson. Not having any children of her own, Clara was a blessing and a Mother to nine children that she helped raise with Cobb.

Clara lived a full life. She had a love for spades, bingo, seafood and traveling. She was able to visit places like The Bahamas, Key West, Miami, New York, The Carolinas and Canada to name a few. She also took pleasure in spending time with her Hogan Creek Towers Community, Mary L. Singleton Senior Center Friends and Orlando Classic Families.

Clara was preceded in death by her parents: Andrew and Christine Swain; husbands: McKinley Cobb and Johnny Watson; aunts: Pearl Boyd, Helen and Elnora Hughes; uncles: Eddie, Ivory, and George Hughes; brothers: Andrew, Cecil, Harold, Ivory, Johnnie, Robert, Willie, Leonard, and Alphonso Swain; sisters: Beatrice Reed, Hazel Moultrie, Lucille Swain, Sarah Love, and Jacquelyn Hardwick and son in love: Timothy Glover.

She leaves to mourn brothers: Eddie Swain (Shirley Prindle) and Charlie Swain (Debra Hall); sister: Pearl (Eugene) Cole; children in love: Arthur Glover, Genesis Glover, Christopher Glover, LaCree Harris, Myron Harris, Antoine Harris, Ashley Carter, and Jeremy Carter; a beloved niece: Latrinal Christina Hardwick; a Special Friend: Jessie James and a host of other relatives and friends.
