"I'M STILL WITH YOU"

*Don't cry too long for me, baby,
I'm resting now, I'm free.
I lived my life with love and fire,
And that's how you remember me.*

*I held you close through every storm,
I loved you strong and true;
And even though I've flown above,
My heart's still holding you.*

*I'm in the garden when it blooms,
I'm in the laughter that you share;
I'm in the truth you boldly speak,
I'm in each answered prayer.*

*Don't think my strength is gone now
It lives in all you do.
I raised you with a mighty love,
And that love still carries you.*

*So dry your tears, my babies,
I've only gone a little ways;
I'm watching you with joy now,
And I'm proud of you always.*

LIFE STORY

Dora Jones McCloud, fondly known as “Ms. Dora”, was born in Dothan, Alabama, to her devoted parents, Pinkie Lee Jones and Benjamin Jones. She grew up surrounded by love with her two sisters, Irell Alston and Mae Lois Sims, and carried the strength, wisdom, and spirit of her family throughout her life.

Ms. Dora was a woman whose heart overflowed with compassion. Her greatest passion was loving people right where they were. If you knew her, you knew she would give her last to help someone else. She was the neighborhood grandmother, a caretaker, a protector, and a foundation for countless children she nurtured along the way. She was an amazing mother, grandmother, sister, aunt, and friend and she deserves to be celebrated, honored, and remembered for the powerful legacy she leaves behind.

She loved her family fiercely. Everyone knew she didn’t play about her grandchildren. She spoke her mind, stood for what was right, and carried a fiery, unapologetic spirit that lit up every room. She was outspoken, joyful, and full of life. Even in her final days, she remained strong, a true firecracker, unstoppable and fierce. She overcame so much in her lifetime, and her resilience continues to inspire all who loved her.

Outside of caring for others, Ms. Dora found joy in life’s simple pleasures. She loved her watermelon, watching her wrestling shows, fishing, and planting fruits, vegetables, sunflowers, and roses, watching them grow just as she watched her family blossom. Though she used a wheelchair in her later years, it never stopped her from living life fully and boldly. She knew and loved the Lord, and her faith carried her through every season.

On November 10, 2025, at the blessed age of 90, Ms. Dora left her wheelchair and her earthly home and peacefully went to her eternal, heavenly home, her prepared mansion where she now walks the streets of gold.

She was preceded in death by her daughters: Deborah Jones and Dorothy Jones; parents: Pinkie Lee Jones and Benjamin Jones; granddaughter: Cassandra Jones and great-grandchildren: Dan Jones Jr. and Reyuan Tribune.

Left to forever cherish her memories are her daughters: Janice Pearson and Roslyne Jones (Roy); grandchildren: Keshawn Jones (Susan), Dan Jones (Rogina), Shamika Jones, Cassandra Jones, Tiffany Coley (Anthony), Seteria Green (Roshon), Shedrick Green, II, Morris Jones, Charnissa Jones, Keshawnee Jones, Khari Jones, Adrian Jones and Keith Thompson. Ms. Dora also leaves behind a host of nieces, nephews, extended family, and many great-grandchildren, great-great-grandchildren and community children whose lives she also left an impact on and touched deeply.

Each one of us here today holds a precious memory of Ms. Dora, memories we will forever cherish in our hearts.
