For Those I Love,
For Those Who Love Me . . .

When I am gone, release me let me go . . .
I have so many things to see and do.
You mustn’t tie yourself to me with tears,
Be happy that we had so many years,
I gave you my love; you can only guess
How much you gave to me in happiness,
I thank you for the love each of you have shown,
But now it’s time I travel on alone.

So grieve a while for me, if grieve you must;
Then let your grief be comforted by trust.
It’s only for a while that we must part,
So bless the memories within your heart.
I won’t be far away, for life goes on
So if you need me, call, and I will come.
And if you listen with your heart you’ll hear
All of my love around you soft and clear.
And then when you must come this way alone,
I’ll greet you with a smile and say:
“Welcome Home”
