The Life & Legacy of Nathan E. Fields Jr Continues

We honor Nathan Edward Fields Jr., who departed this world on February 22, 2024, in the embrace of his loved ones at the Hospice House. He was affectionately known to many as Ricky, was born on September 17, 1954, in Lackey, VA, to the union of the late Nathan Sr. & Thelma (Nettles) Fields.

Nathan was a proud 1974 East High School Golden Bear graduate and attended Choffin Vocational School where he nurtured his passion for carpentry. He enjoyed home projects and loved honing his carpentry skills whenever an occasion presented itself.

Nathan was a lover and student of God's word. He attended the Rising Star Baptist Church and served its Trustee Ministry; he formerly attended Metropolitan Baptist Church where he served as a deacon.

Nathan enjoyed hosting family gatherings, yet appreciated his secluded time within the mancave. He was a lover of R & B, Jazz, yet he also found contentment watching Inside Edition & Family Feud telecasts. Nathan had an appreciation for the simple pleasures in life such as Chick-Fil-A and McDonald's. Summers required frequent visits to Handel's Ice Cream. Nathan intentionally made memories out of the moments. Professionally he was a respected production foreman in the manufacturing industry, having worked for Parker Hannifin

He leaves to cherish fond memories, his beloved wife, Alicia Fields, as well as a large, blended family tree comprising numerous biological and bonus children which includes Neal (Happy) Monroe of Columbus, Brian Monroe of Cleveland, Adeline Monroe of Warren, Melissa (Ronald) King of Las Vegas, NV, Tamala Fields of Atlanta and Guy Monroe, Tameicka Fields, Tonya (Joshua) Thornton, Natalie Fields, Kimberly Harris, Mark Harris and Jordan Harris all of Youngstown.

His legacy is embraced by siblings Christabelle Neal, Donald (Angelique) Fields, Randy Fields, Vanessa (Kenneth) Montgomery all of Youngstown and Stacey Fields of Maryland. His memory will also be sustained by a score of grandchildren, nieces, nephews, and cousins.

As he takes place among the ancestors, he was preceded in eternal life by his parents, former spouse, Adeline "Addie" Armstead-Fields and infant daughter Jennifer Fields.
